Serra Mothers Schedule 'Chuck Wagon' for Nov. 10

Following in the wake of the highly successful "Flight to Fashion," Serra mothers are again busy with preparations, this time a Chuck Wagon dinner scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 10.

Mrs. James Vedder, Hawthorne, general chairman of the event has announced a festive holiday menu of ham, turkey, and roast beef dinners with tossed salad, hot rolls, coffee and apple pie. Mrs. Vedder said, "as an added attraction, we have acquired the services of Mrs. Florence Modisett of Manhattan Beach, a registered nurse who will be in charge of a baby sitting corps to look after the small fry while the rest of the family enjoys the 'all you can eat Chuck Wagon.'" She also indicated that reservations are not necessary and that tickets will be available at the door.

Assisting with the food preparation on Saturday will be Mmes. G. M. Moran, George Strohmeier, M. Little and John Kane.

Among those scheduled to handle the dining room under the supervision of Mrs. Daniel Adelsperger are Mmes. Bernard Glienke, C. Monette, Joe Vedder, Albert Gonzales, Robert Zuver, and Miss Kathy Zuver.

The Junior class mothers in charge of the Chuck Wagon project have set the serving hours from 4-7 p.m. in the school cafeteria. The Mothers' Club executive board meets at 8 p.m. Monday.

Junipero Serra High School is located at 14830 S. Van Ness Ave., Gardena.

Auxiliary Launches Whirl of Social Activities for Year

Launching of a social program which will make it one of the most active groups in the South Bay area was announced yesterday by Mrs. Elizabeth West, of Lomita, ways and means chairman of the newly formed Bay-Harbor Osteopathic Hospital Guild.

Sewing circle activities have already been started in 12 Bay-Harbor communities in preparation for a February rummage sale and Spring bazaar. Mrs. West declared. In addition a Summer barbecue, little theater night program, table decorating and place setting demonstrations and other events are being planned.

Special events in each of the 12 communities represented by the nearly 150 Guild members who have joined the organization since its organization two months ago, are being planned by district chairmen who will report at the next Guild meeting scheduled Nov. 18 at 1 p.m. in the Assistance League Clubhouse, 1441 West Eighth St., San Pedro.

Aiding Mrs. West with the programming are Mmes. John Casey, Rolling Hills; Edna Thomas, Lomita; Mrs. Edna Graff, Harbor City; Dorothy Lisman, San Pedro; Opal Sen-son, Redondo Beach; Richard Rozendal, Torrance; Clifford Pearson, Gardena; Eleanor Thill, Walteria; Ray Loftus, Wilmington; and Glenn Moor, Manhattan Beach. Regular sewing circle activities have been set for Thursdays at two week intervals. Mrs. West reported.

Mrs. Grace Crawford, San Pedro, membership chairman and Guild treasurer, reported that Guild teams are being organized to help with final Fund drive efforts to secure approximately $75,000 yet needed to assure construction of the $1,100,000 50-bed facility on Lomita Blvd. in Harbor City, and assure the final allocation of $594,882 in Hill-Burton funds to the hospital.

Pilot Club Celebrates Founders' Day

Pilot Club of Torrance held its monthly program meeting last Thursday evening at the Fish Shanty. Ten members of the Soroptimist Club were guests, and a program observing Founders Day was enjoyed. Leola Cork, Clara Dougherty, Mae Sleep, and Mary Young wore fashions of the 20's and reenacted the founding of Pilot, which was organized in Macon, Ga., on Oct. 18, 1921. The Pilot motto is "True Course Ever" and the basic objective this year has been "Friendship and Service."

Guest speaker was Mrs. Kathleen Canby, executive director of the YWCA, Torrance branch, who gave an interesting talk on American students who study in schools in Iraq, on the Fulbright Scholarship.

WILLIAM STUGART JR. Mr. and Mrs. William Stugart, 1648 W. 253rd St., Harbor City, are announcing the birth of their first child, a boy, on Oct. 30 at the Osteopathic Hospital in Long Beach. The 8-lb. 13-oz. young man has been named William Lee Stugart, Jr.

Mrs. Stugart is the former Melba Hanna. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ollis K. Hanna of Harbor City and Mr. and Mrs. John Stugart of Evans, Colo.

Harbor Early Childhood Education Group Meets

Wednesday, Oct. 30, Harbor Assn. of Early Childhood Education held its second membership meeting at 158th St. School, Gardena. Mr. Holliday, principal, and teachers, assisted by their PTA, were co-hosts with Bernard Strand's Chapman Avenue School. The Halloween motif was the theme used on the tea table.

Miss Lorraine Sklut of 156th Street School and Miss Helen Nygard of Chapman Avenue School were chairmen. Honored guests were: Mrs. Georgiana Hardy of the Los Angeles City Board of Education; Gladys Collins, vice president, southern section; Dr. Arlene Roster, Long Beach State College; Miss Gertrude Pastorek, primary supervisor, south elementary district; Mrs. Marie Cahn, teacher consultant; Mrs. Joan McCammon, president, Los Angeles Association for Early Childhood Education, as well as several of the association board members: Miss Anna Irene Jenkins, past vice president of the National Education Assn. and founder of Kindergarten Club and Children's Memorial Library at Sentous Center; Mrs. Ruth Hartscock of Rinny Tenny School; Chris Welton, Gardena Chamber of Commerce; Mrs.

Ruth Murphy, Homer Toherman Settlement House, San Pedro; Miss Madeline Reese, 30 Year Club, San Pedro; Mr. C. N. Peterson, Gardena-Wilmington PTA Council; David Bassan, Associated Teachers' Organization of Los Angeles Insurance. Guests also included many PTA president and board members and school principals from the harbor area.

Speaker of the day was Frank McIntyre, California Teachers' Assn. public relations director for nine years. He stressed the importance of "Expanding Community Relations" by communicating the good and constructive in the community rather than the negative and sensational. He emphasized the fact that the youth of today is intelligent and fine thinking and that these facts should be communicated to the public.

The December meeting will be a Christmas tea given jointly by the Harbor Assn. for Early Childhood Education and the Los Angeles Elementary Teachers' Club at White Point School, Dec. 11 from 3 to 5 p.m. All principals, supervisors, and teachers of the harbor area schools are invited to come and enjoy the beginning of the Christmas season.
